STYLE MANUALS

Style manuals provide information on conventions for organizing term papers, theses, and other types of publications, as well as how to cite traditional and electronic sources. The Library’s Home page provides a link to electronic versions of style manuals under the phrase, “Citing Sources.” Listed below are paper versions of those most commonly used by the faculty at Bloomsburg University. Some are subject-specific and others are general. All are shelved at the Reference Desk.

BIOLOGY

CHEMISTRY
   The ACS Guide: a manual for authors and editors. Ref QD 8.5 .A25 1986

GENERAL
   A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations (Turabian)
     Ref LB2369 .T8 1996

LITERATURE

PSYCHOLOGY
   Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association. (APA)
     Ref BF 76.7 .P83 1994

SOCIOLOGY
Sample Bibliographic Entries in the
Most Frequently Requested Formats

APA
Book by a single author

Journal article by a single author

MLA
Book by a single author

Journal article by a single author

SOCIOLOGY
Book by a single author

Journal article by a single author

TURABIAN
Book by a single author

Journal article by a single author